Worst Waste of All
Oxygen and Hydrogen
Foolish Swim, Silly Race

Everybody has said something about American waste. We waste in forest fires, in the garbage pail.
According to statistics, we waste enough to feed a nation. We waste in lands unused and in agricultural implements left out in the rain, good for only one season.

We waste by hurrying too much,
eating too fast, sleeping too little.
But of all the foolish waste the worst is this: THERE ARE NOW 1,250,000 men on strike in the United States.

At $4 a day average, that means $5,000,000 a day, a billion and a half dollars a year, to say nothing of the loss to employers, owners, stockholders.

Workers and employers disagree, there comes a strike or lockout, money and work are wasted while seeing which can outlast the longest.

There ought to be intelligence enough in the country to change that.

One Mexican oil stock went up nearly one hundred points, then dropped, went down almost half as much. Only the recording angel knows what the poor gamblers said.

The slump was caused by "salt water in the wells," very old announcement.

There is salt water in some wells undoubtedly. Also there are several thousand million barrels of oil in Mexico, so take care how you go "salt."

The curious thing is that if men know how to use it, how to separate the two parts hydrogen and one part oxygen that make up a molecule of water, they would have a fuel better than oil or gasoline, leaving no carbon deposit.

And if they knew how to use the power that holds together the atoms of hydrogen and oxygen in the molecules that fill a wingless full of water, they would release more power than could be developed by burning one hundred thousand barrels of oil.

Hydrogen burns with intense

Claim Evangelist Trotter Is Father of Mission Worker's Nameless Waif

Attempted to Rail- road Wife to Insane Hospital, She Says, Following Threat to Expose Him

Thousands of Boston people have heard the fiery sermons of "Red" Trotter, known as Billy Sunday's only rival.

They have listened to him exhort the sinner to tread the straight and narrow path.

The more susceptible have trembled at his graphic picture of hell, to which he conjured all those who slipped into the sinners path.

They have listened to his oft-repeated warning: "Those who live by the sword shall perish by the sword and the evil that men do shall find them out."

Often, in his prophetic pronouncements, he has ranked a man or woman out of his audience and exposed the repentant one as an awful sinner.

The Rev. Trotter, head of the 1100 Salvation Corporation, is himself an example today. He is being sued for divorce in Grand Rapids, Lured Mission Worker.

Mrs. Trotter charges, among other things, that "Red" has failed for a mission worker, whom he brought to a state of nameless maternity.

When Trotter is charged with trying to railroad his wife to an asylum to stop her action.

That part of the story which tells of the kissing of women by the evangelist and the paragon of the mission worker are in an affidavit made by George W. Walker, president of the Herkko Piano Company of Grand Rapids.

Among other details, the affidavit sets forth:

1. During the time of the mission work, one of the mission workers in a hospital where she brought forth a child.

2. Affectionate scenes between the evangelist and women workers in the former's office and in the home. The framed motto "Orestes you another with a holy kiss."

3. Commitment to a sanitarium of mental illness of a woman when she became suspicious of the evangelist and Miss Moody.

4. Dramatic scenes in the mission president's home where Mr. Trotter said to his knees and vowed to make amends to his wife.

5. Alleged confession, charged by Mrs. Trotter, in which Trotter admitted himself as the father of Miss Moody's baby.

LODGE FLEW BY FOSS IN TARIFF FIGHT

Playing Senator Lodge as "Bird" to the success of New England," former Governor Eugene N. Fox announced plans for a testimonial meeting in Boston to Senator David I. Walsh for his fight against the tariff.

The announcement is contained in a letter to the junior senator in which the "Old Boy" says in part: "It is indeed unfortunate to say the least that Senator Lodge is so allied to the nomination of New England."

Every intelligent manufacturer knows that successful industry requires: First, that industry must have raw material, including the necessities and comforts of life for every operative, on as favorable basis as exists elsewhere. Second, it must have the widest market possible for its product. I believe that raw materials should be placed on the free list.

Woman Buys Office of Noah Webster's First Printer

West Brookfield, July 7.—The site of the famous printing office where Webster's Dictionary was first printed is to be sold. The Makepeace Block, corner of Main and Central streets, owned by C. A. Halsey, will be bought by Miss Lillian Joyce. The building is a two-story brick structure, which dates back to Colonial days. A tenroom, an ice cream parlor and two apartments now occupy the building. At the Somerset hospital, where Mrs. Halsey was taken, it was said she was not seriously ill. This mother told the police that Mrs. Halsey had been in poor health of late and that was probably the cause of the attempt to die.

Milk that is completely safe

Pure & creamy milk, rich in butter fat is produced by the well-fed Borden herds.

Eagle Brand is the accepted baby food, more used than all others combined.

The most particular housewife would vote the interiors of Borden Condenseries "as clean as a new pin".

PURE milk—milk that is completely safe—is a vital necessity. But how can you know when your milk is pure? You can not tell by looking at it, or by tasting it.

The name of the producer is your best guide

For sixty-four years the producers of Borden's Milk have maintained the high standard set for them by Gail Borden, whose dream it was to make pure milk available to everybody. Borden condensaries are located in the best dairy sections of the country; the farmers know that milk intended for the Borden factories must come from clean, tested herds; all milk is inspected and examined carefully; then it is sealed up at the factory, and so delivered to you by way of your grocery man.

Ask your grocer for Borden's if you want milk that is completely safe

There is Borden's Eagle Brand, the accepted baby food, and Borden's Evaporated Milk for general household use. Each is the best of its kind.

ARBITRATION IS REJECTED BY AMOSKEAG OFFICIALS

By CHARLES O. POWER.

Manchester, N. H., July 7.—There will be no conference of the strikers and the Amoskeag Mill officials this week. It is doubtful if there will be one next week.

The representatives of the Boston American put it straight from Amoskeag sources that the officials of the company would be pleased to attend a strike tea with the representatives of the strikers and the citizens' committee of ten but would not arbitrate the two great points in dispute, hours and reduction of wages. The giver of this information is not related either directly or indirectly with the strikers or with the citizens' committee, but says he is sure that a letter has been written to Charles W. Tobey, chairman of the citizens' committee, to be transmitted by him to the strikers' executive committee, which says, in effect that, "while the Amoskeag officials will be pleased to attend a conference, they will not receive from their original stand for a week at fifty-four hours and a wage cut for operatives of twenty per cent."

STRIKERS LEADERS PERTURBED.
The accuracy of this information is borne out by the course of events. It was expected that Mr. Tobey would announce the plan for the conference Thursday afternoon, but after a meeting in his office with a committee of strikers, he said one of the parties had requested that the announcement be postponed until this afternoon. He would make no further explanation and the strikers refused to make a statement. It was plain to be seen, however, that they were very much perturbed. The strike committee issued a statement in which it was pointed out that the alleged refusal of the Amoskeag to discuss the only two points which brought about the strike would manifestly make the conference a burlesque, and that in view of the lack of willingness of the mill people to confer and arbitrate, the strike will be pursued with more determination than before. There can be but two results of the obduracy of the Amoskeag officials, more bitter feeling and a tremendous increase in the rapidly growing sentiment in favor of a forty-eight-hour law. The strike committee has been urged to progress the humanitarian labor legislation and has awakened a real interest in strong elements that have been apathetic.

MERCHANTS ARE MAD.
The patience and forbearance of the strikers, their determination to obey the law and keep the peace, has respect they have shown for the rights of their neighbors and their regard for the business of the community, have been in such pronounced contrast to the arrogance of the Amoskeag officials in refusing to compromise and in demanding the enforcement of extraordinary police powers that the popular reaction has been strong. In twenty-one weeks of striking against a reduction of 20 per cent. in wages and work week of fifty-four hours, they have behaved as civilized citizens. Manchester never has been hit so hard.

We're Forgetting How to Walk, Says Hub Doctor

Los Angeles, July 7.—Human beings will not be able to walk if the present tendency continues to its ultimate conclusion in the process of evolution, according to Dr. R. Kendrick Smith, professor of osteopathy at the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy in an address to the national osteopathic convention at the Hotel Ambassador.

Trolley cars began the retrograde process, he declared, and automobiles are carrying it one step further. Elevators, automobiles, chairs, and other innumerable contrivances combine to keep the human animal off his feet during the most part of his waking hours.

For weeks buying has been on the hands-to-mouth policy. Traveling men for some wholesale business in Boston and New York have cut Manches from their selling list until the strike is settled on an understanding with local customers that they will write into the sales office for small lots to cover current needs.

Three merchants are mad keen through over the stiff-necked attitude of the Amoskeag officials and they see clearly that their only hope of relief from recurrence of similar hard times is to remove by legislation as many causes of dispute between mill operatives and mill operators as possible.

PRIZE CLEANUP CUP GOES TO LYNN

They're thinking of changing the name of Lynn to "Spotless Town." Lynn was given a silver cup by the New England Cleanup and Paint-out Campaign Committee, in recognition of its efforts to beautify itself.

According to the committee's judges, who were Governor Cox of Massachusetts, Governor Brown of New Hampshire, and State Treasurer Jennings of Rhode Island, Lynn conducted the best and most efficient campaign of any municipality in New England.

The committee, in announcing the award, praised the co-operation given by Mayor McPherson, the police department, Lynn ministers, Boy Scouts and others. During the campaign, it develops, Lynn cleaned 210 miles of public streets, removed 17,000 pounds of refuse, cleaned up 7,427 yards and attended to more than 2,000 cases of public parks. Six Lynn stores reported that during the campaign they sold, among other things, 50,000 cakes of soap, 1,110 brooms, 225 soap and 200 gallons of paint.

Honorable mention was given by the committee to Burlington, Vt., while special commendation was voted for the efforts of East Boston and the Maiden public schools.

Both cargoes were delivered at the New Haven coal pier in South Boston. In addition to the foreign coal, three cargoes arrived from Chesapeake Bay. The steamship Hampton brought 1,000 tons to the Everett gas works from Sewell's Point, and the Matin brought 2,245 tons to the Boston & Maine Railroad from Newport News.

The line conference also towed in the barge Flora from Sewell's Point with 1,100 tons of steam coal for the Stetson Coal Company, which will be delivered to the industrial plants in Greater Boston.

Other cargoes of industrial coal are on the way to Boston from Sydney, Cape Breton, Newcastle, England and Chesapeake Bay.

He never outgrew his love for his craft—shown by his lines to "Cobbler Kearsy," in his ever popular "Songs of Labor."

Washington, July 7.—The third great session to Congress for early passage of the "Hearst" bonus bill, which would give $100,000,000 to a million Americans who were a square deal for World War veterans, was presented to the Senate today.

The grand document brings to a close the 1918-1919 session of the American Legion, the largest of the veterans' organizations throughout the country, called by the Hearst news.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota, chairman of the finance committee, formally presented the great petition to the Senate and it is now a part of the official record.

TOOT

Sweet for Sweeties, as They Say in Paris! For formal evening wear, and for those who like to "dress up" at least once for some evening festivity, this exquisite evening gown of white net, trimmed with pearls, is offered exclusively to Boston American readers. The model is an original one and is direct from Paris, where they know how to make evening wear for women. Boston creates as smart sport clothes as any place in the world, but it stunts there. The gown shown is easily copied, despite its apparent intricate detail. The pearls, of course, are imitation.

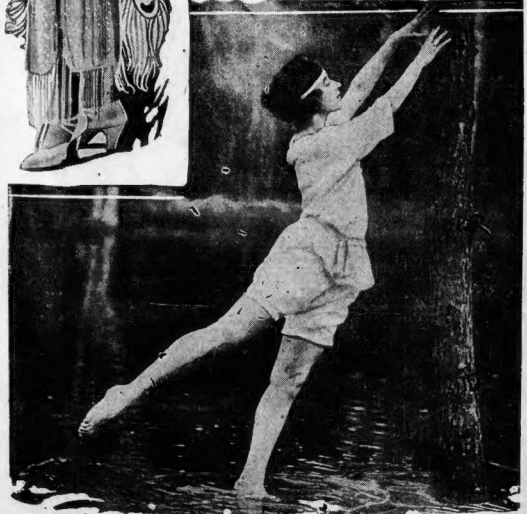

THIS IS THE WINDJAMMER THAT MAKES THE STORMS FOR THE "LITTLE Nails" of the Movies! You've often wondered how they create those realistic wind storms and lightning out to fright! This explains why each year scores of Boston girls like themselves away to the woods or some mountain retreat and dance like trojans—even during the hot weather. Let's gaze on Miss Frances Aldrich, who is "dancing her vacation" at Peterboro, N. H., as a pupil of the Marlboro school. The cameraman caught her in graceful pose against a tree.

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS SOCCER BATTLE SUNDAY BALL TO FOR HUNT'S CONTINUE IN BENEFIT CAMBRIDGE

By ART CURLY.
EVERY real soccer fan in the vicinity of Boston will be out to Bulfinch Square tomorrow afternoon to witness the international game between Scotland and Ireland, which will be staged for the benefit of Jimmy Hunt.

Hunt of the St. George's team, the father of eight children, was unfortunately injured to break his ankle while playing against Italy & Italy's four weeks ago and since that time has had a hard time trying to make both ends meet.

Although Jimmy has been given money from the Patron Cup Fund and from various collectors it has been hardly enough to properly care for his large family, and the officials of the London and Ireland teams who have charge of the game sincerely hope that enough money will be raised through the generosity of the fans tomorrow to see this deserving family through their difficulties.

It will not be necessary to beg or plead to attract this contest for all the followers of the king game in the north of the south are both well acquainted with Hunt and with the kind of battle an international match turns out to be. Scotland, however, represent Scotland and Ireland.

The English eleven will consist of twelve of members of the St. George's football team, with the exception of Robinson of St. George's and Yeallie of Charlton.

The Scotch team will be as follows: Ross, goal; H. Simpson and R. V. Peck, fullbacks; Scott, Edwards and L. Yeallie, halfbacks; Milward, Robinson, K. Simpson, Bailey and H. Simpson, forwards.

The Scotch team will be: Forth, goal; Wilson and W. Brash, fullbacks; White, Grant and McKelvie, halfbacks; R. Bradford, Smith, McLean, O'Rourke and Doherty, forwards.

Robt. Butler will referee and the game will start promptly at 3:30.

Those who have been keeping a close check on the primary markets report a heavy absorption of accumulated raw materials.

Stocks of food, wool, cotton, copper, zinc, lead and other commodities are now held in much smaller quantities than formerly, and to this fact may be attributed the steady advance in the market for these commodities. The primary commodities in the last six months.

Consequently, at least the price of the seller has come, and buyers are compelled to bid for their supplies rather than have them forced on them at what they will bring.

Take the wool market as an example. The enormous stock of wool, which it was supposed would take a year or more to absorb, has been absorbed, and the market has declined within a year.

About $2,000,000 of wool is now available for clothing purposes, and the new harvest which the trade expects about the middle of September. This amount is considered to be a year's normal importation.

European woolen mills are now being asked to September and beyond, and therefore little wool can be looked for from Europe, and apparently there is to be an era of high-priced wool.

In looking around for a support to the cotton market, the market has been steadily rising since the middle of June, and the market is now at a level which is well above the level of the middle of June.

The cotton market is now at a level which is well above the level of the middle of June, and the market is now at a level which is well above the level of the middle of June.

Turns in railroad traffic for June. In addition, by current reports of some of the Western roads, which are now greatly concerned with the coal traffic, Rock Island system handled 11,153 tons in June, 1922, compared with 11,571 in June, 1921. Chicago and Northwestern moved 10,875 cars last month, as against 11,781 a year ago. Illinois Central handled 15,518 in June, 1922, compared with 15,541 last year, and Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville moved 21,768 cars, compared with 21,515 last year.

Computations for all the Eastern roads have not yet been completed, but the companies in union coal traffic will show a great increase in the amount of the strike. On the other hand, the Northern & Western lines of which penetrate a large non-union territory, make a notable gain in its net income, largely on account of the large volume of coal traffic.
